Schemata Workshop is pleased to announce that we have selected Peace for the Streets by Kids from the Streets (PSKS) as the organization to which we will provide pro bono architectural services as part of the nationwide 1% Solution (www.theonepercent.org), Schemata Workshop has pledged one percent of our time to the public good through pro bono architectural services. This was the first year of our annual request for proposals from non profit agencies in the Seattle metropolitan in need of architectural services.

PSKS provides a necessary service to our community and we are encouraged by the success of their past efforts in helping young people exit the streets. We appreciate their local engagement with homelessness by providing long term support and services that enable young people to stay off the streets. We understand their need for a larger, more usable, permanent space that will enable them to increase their contributions to Seattle's homeless youth, who are often underserved by other community organizations. We are excited to work with PSKS to help them determine the steps toward future growth of their facility. At the conclusion of our services, we anticipate that PSKS will have the information to determine whether to proceed with a renovation to their existing space or acquire new property.
